Central Office Professional Learning Opportunity

BUILDING INSTRUCTIONAL LEADERSHIP CAPACITY FOR CENTRAL OFFICE & PRINCIPAL SUPERVISORS

COIIL provides professional learning opportunities designed for central office personnel and principal supervisors to learn and apply research- and evidence-based instructional leadership practices.

Targeted, practical learning opportunities and coaching support are designed to help participants:

- Prioritize student learning.
- Work alongside school-level leaders and engage the community to strengthen and sustain a focus on teaching and learning.
- Become a lead learner to develop a culture of continuous learning, organizational trust, and accountability.
- Assess district vision and goals for teaching and learning to strengthen student engagement and the pedagogical core.
- Foster collaborative cultures to improve the collective instructional capacity of all personnel to hold themselves and each other accountable for meeting the learning needs of all students, regardless of their classroom or school assignment.
- Build skills in attracting, supporting, retaining, and leveraging teaching and leadership talent.

WHAT TO EXPECT

This hybrid professional learning series is designed to leverage the use of existing structures (e.g., leadership teams) and Ohio's Integrated Multi-Tiered System of Supports framework to support central office personnel to improve achievement, especially in literacy and mathematics, for all students.

> "COIIL is unique and rewarding. We get the opportunity to network with central office personnel across the state to discuss current leadership research approaches and strategies. The facilitators promote an environment that not only fosters creativity but also allows us to be vulnerable and intentional in sharing our experiences with each other. That is where the magic (learning) happens!"

COIIL is a statewide program offered by the University of Cincinnati Systems Development & Improvement Center (UC SDI), in partnership with BASA, OAESA, and OASSA.

Inclusive instructional leadership (IIL) supports educators in school districts and schools to promote high levels of learning for all students, including students with learning challenges and/or those receiving special education services. It focuses on instructional leadership through the use of four key strategies - (1) promote systemwide learning, (2) prioritize teaching and learning, (3) build capacity through support and accountability, and (4) sustain an open and collaborative culture - that are actualized through the use of leadership teams [e.g., district teams, building teams, teacher-based teams, PLCs, etc.].
